NATIONALS AND CHICAGO BREAK RECORD FOR OVERTIME GAMES

New American League Mark for Stubborn Fighting Set in Series Which Ended Yesterday—Jackson Disappoints.

BY J. ED GRILLO.

CHICAGO, August 27.—The Nationals and White Sox established a new record in the American League for stubborn fighting in the series here. The three games were for extra innings and were forty innings long. The White Sox have played four games in succession that were for extra innings, as they had to play eleven innings with the Yankees the day before the Nationals started here. While the series did not provide especially good ball, the games were all very interesting, and the season was close.

It is seldom that a pitcher has an opportunity to win two games in the same series with his bat, but that is what Walter Johnson did yesterday and the day before.

He started the rally Wednesday that sent the winning run over the plate and it was a foul fly from his bat yesterday, coupled with a "home" play on the part of Leibold, that enabled the winning run to cross the plate for the Washington team.

The Nationals left here last night for St. Louis feeling in a very happy frame of mind. It was a real pleasure for Griffith to put a kibitz into the ambitions of the White Sox to win the pennant. It was an easy thing to demonstrate to them that their chances were very bad for capturing the big flag.

Joe Jackson has been a big disappointment since he joined the Sox. His bad throw yesterday in the twelfth was the cause of the game being won by the Washington men. He played the ball bad when he went after Milan's single in center. He was right in front of the ball, which was hit hard, but he let it hop out of his glove after he got hold of it, and then made a wild heave to the diamond to hold Milan on second. He could easily have stopped Milan by running in with the ball, but he threw it along the ground and it got away from Weaver, and Johns and Russell, who were backing him up, and rolled into the White Sox diamond. This gave Milan an opportunity to score all the way on his own hit.

The wisdom of taking Third Baseman Johns out of the game in the twelfth inning was questioned by the fans after the game was over. Leibold was sent to the plate to bat for Johns after he had made two hits during the game. The bases were full and one out when Manager Rowland made this switch and Leibold was able to ring in the tying run from third on a hard rap to the plate.

Special Dispatch to The Star.

ST. LOUIS, August 27.—Horace Milan, brother of Clyde, the Nationals' regular center fielder, joined the forces of Griffith today. The younger Milan was declared a free agent Monday, his contract having expired on that date, and contained the release clause.

Horace has been playing with the McAllister club, and is said to be the best ball player in the Western Association. He is twenty years of age and a little heavier and taller than his brother. The newcomer batted well over .300, and is reported to be very fast and a wonderful defensive man. He is a right-hand thrower and hitter. Griffith may give him a trial here.

The Nationals reached St. Louis shortly after 5 o'clock this morning. Harper will likely slab the opening game against the Browns. It looks like Lowdermilk for St. Louis.

FOUR MORE ENTRIES.

List Now Reaches 142 for National Amateur Golf Tourney.

NEW YORK, August 27.—Before leaving for Detroit yesterday, Secretary H. F. Whitney of the United States Golf Association announced the receipt of four more entries for the national amateur golf championship tournament, which will begin at the Country Club of Detroit next Saturday. This brings the total entries up to 142.

The additional entrants are S. S. Jackson, Windsor; H. Velle, Jr., Rock Island; W. R. Langford, Glen Oak, and B. W. Hunter, Bloomfield Hills.

Scout Neall of the Phils was in a small minor league tour training his lamps on a player that had been recommended to the club. The work of the player impressed Neall and he decided to have a talk with him that night. Sliding his identity he started a conversation with the player at his hotel. During the talk the busher had occasion to pull out his keyring. Neall keys a scout saw a cork screw and beer opener attached. Neall ended the conversation quickly and left the town that night without buying the player.

McBride, but it was Blackburne that really tossed the game away in the next inning. He stopped McBride's grounder in plenty of time to throw him out at first, but instead of making the throw he stopped and tried to touch Williams on the way to third, and was then too late to make the throw to get McBride.

The desperate game between the Red Sox and the Tigers yesterday attracted a lot of attention from the fans. When the score was put up showing that the Tigers had won the game a tremendous cheer went up, for the Chicago fans are anxious to hold the Red Sox down.

Yesterday's game was played in less than an hour and ten minutes, which is a record for a nine-inning contest. The two games of the series were slow affairs compared to yesterday's contest.

The White Sox have little chance now to overtake the Red Sox and Tigers. The Nationals are ten and a half games behind the White Sox, so there is every reason to believe that the American League race will end just the way it stands at the present time.

Joe Boehling pitched as good a game yesterday as he ever did in his career. He had the White Sox eating out of his hand until the twelfth inning, when he showed the strain of his hard work. To keep a team of heavy hitters like the Sox from getting more than six hits in eleven rounds is a feat that any pitcher should be proud of. Three of the hits were of the scratch variety at that. Felsch got a two-lagger on a Texas League drive, which should have been bubbled up by McBride or Milan, but the two were afraid of each other, and let it drop. Jackson beat out a slow roller to McBride, and Murphy was given a hit when Shanks really deserved an error for making a bad throw to first.

The White Sox pitching staff is badly messed up because of the stay of the Nationals in Chicago. Rowland used up every one of his pitchers in his effort to stop the Griffmen, but he will have an easy series with the Athletics, very likely, and does not have to worry over the fact. Griffith kept his pitchers in the shape while playing the Sox, and has Walter Johnson ready for a game with the Browns today or tomorrow.

Chick Gandil batted at the rate of .444 during the games session with the Sox. He made four hits in the first game, two in the second and two in the third. He was at bat eighteen times during the three games and never got a base on balls, nor was he hit by pitcher.

MAMAUX SAVED FROM JITS.

Pirates Sign Boy Wonder to New Contract for Three Years.

NEW YORK, August 27.—The Pirates won't get Al Mamaux, the young pitching star of the Pirates. They have been after him, had him in tow here in New York no later than yesterday, it is reported, and made him a fat and rosy instead of the young man, however, instead of grabbing at the allurements, which included a corpulent wave of cash, reported to Fred Clarke. Result: Before the sun had sunk to rest Mamaux had signed a Pittsburgh contract for three years.

This, it is believed, is the first player Barney Dreyfuss has signed to a contract for such a long term. He is opposed to the practice, but also, it would appear, is opposed to the Jits getting Mamaux—if there was any chance of that. Then, again, Mamaux doesn't grow on every tree.

McINNIS STILL A MACK.

Stuffy Is at Gloucester, Where His Mother Is Dangerously Ill.

PHILADELPHIA, August 27.—Stuffy McInnis is still a member of the house of Mack. Because the best first baseman in the American League has not been appearing in the box scores lately rumors started fast and furious that Mack had picked up a bit more change by disposing of the last of his $100,000 fund to some other American League rival.

Mack himself, however, denies that he has sold McInnis. In a wire to friends in this city yesterday he informed them that McInnis was at Gloucester, Mass., where his mother lies seriously ill. Stuffy once before this season had to leave the team to go to Gloucester when his mother was first taken ill.

ALLEN RUSSELL TO YANKS.

Jack Dunn Sells Lefty's Brother to New York Americans.

RICHMOND, Va., August 27.—Allen Russell, Richmond's star twirler, has been sold to the New York Yankees for $2,500. Manager Dunn of the local International team announced last night, and will report to the Yanks when they return from their present trip. Russell, who is a brother of Lefty Russell, has been Dunn's mainstay in the box this season.

TO OPEN BIG TOURNEY.

Alexander and Niles Will Play First Match at Forest Hills.

NEW YORK, August 27.—Officials of the United States Lawn Tennis Association announced today that the match between Frederick B. Alexander, former national doubles champion and Davis cup player, and Nathaniel W. Niles of Boston probably would be given the place of honor on the grandstand court at the opening of the national championship tournament at Forest Hills next Monday.

The match between Harold A. Throckmorton, the boy star, and Edward H. Whitney, the former Harvard captain, has been selected as the next most important match of the opening day.
